

Ballads from Manuscripts, edited by F. J. Furnivall (1868); Discourse of the Commonweal of England, edited by Miss Lamond, who attributes it to John Hales (1893); Latimer's Sermons, edited for Parker Society by Corrie (1844-45); Lever's Sermons, Arber's edition (1870); Gilpin's Sermons (Gilpin's Life, 1753); Cheeke, Hurt of Sedition (1549); Russell, Kett's Rebellion in Norfolk (1859), containing original Documents, and incorporating the contemporary works of Sotherton (Commoysen) in Norfolk (1549), and Nevylle, De Furoribus Norfolciensium; Pollard, England Under Protector Somerset (1900), a most useful study, very favourable to the Protector; also Froude, Dixon, &c.